Questions ?

If you have questions concerning membership or other services of the North American Security Products Organization, please contact Graham Whitehead, Ph.D., NASPO Administration at (604) 921-9196.

Mission Statement

NASPO is a not-for-profit, standards organization that defines, documents, and maintains relevant security risk management standards for reducing:

- Financial fraud
- Identity document fraud
- The dilution of brand integrity

NASPO will train and certify security products providers and users to the appropriate level of those standards. NASPO will also participate in organized industry wide anti-fraud initiatives. NASPO will focus on North America but certify users globally.
